

WORKING WITH CHILDREN WITH DISABILITIES

Overview

Children with disabilities are at higher risk of abuse due to their lack of social and physical development. Aiming High for Disabled Children (AHDC) is legislation enforced by the government to ensure that disabled children are protected to the same level as able children. To maintain these standards, this course instils values and ethics in anyone who works with disabled children and is therefore ideal for those working in schools or care environments.

Outline of Programme

- Understanding the AHDC legislation.
- Ensuring good practice when working with disabled children.
- Communicating with children with varying disabilities.
- Enhanced confidence when working with disabled children.
- Realise how your behaviour affects children.

Assessment

The working with children with disabilities course runs over 6 hours and delegates will be expected to engage in several practical group activities. Our experienced trainers will be on hand to help guide participants through these sessions and a certificate will be awarded upon completion.

Cost

Our courses are competitively priced, and we aim to beat any equivalent training quote.

Important Information

- The training venue should be quiet and undisturbed.
- Staff should not be expected to be on duty.
- Staff attending should remain for the entire length of the session.
